She has in the past been Miss Southern, a member of the Homecoming and AFOTC queen courts and currently holds the Miss Granite City title.

Christmas Ball Saturday To Open Week Of Events

Dances, concerts and caroling highlight the whirl of activities for Christmas Week 1961.

On tap this week are three dances, an oratorio concert, the Christmas Week Sing, the traditional Christmas Assembly and the foreign students' Festival of Nations. Overall planning of official Christmas Week activities is the job of Terry Hamilton and his Christmas Week Steering Committee.

The round of events opens Saturday with the Christmas Ball in the University Center from 9 p.m. until midnight. The Don LeMasters Orchestra will provide music, according to Jean Olsen and Jim Claxton, co-chairmen of the dance. There is no charge for the semi-formal affair; admission is by couples only.

The Thompson Point Snowball Dance, to be held in Lentz Hall, is also Saturday night from 8 p.m. until midnight. Ford Gibson and His Five Sounds will play for the event, and the Collegians will provide vocal entertainment. The theme for the semi-formal affair is "The Three Ages of Christmas." No admission will be charged. Barbara Bird and Patricia Jones are co-chairmen of the dance.

The Southern Illinois Oratorio

Chorus, the SIU Choir and Orchestra and a select group of high school singers will present this year's Oratorio Concert in two performances — at 8 p.m. Saturday and 4 p.m. Sunday in Shryock Auditorium. Robert L. Kingsbury, SIU choir director, will lead the groups in a performance of 16th and 17th Century choral works.

Music from atop Aliged Hall will greet early risers Monday through Friday from 7-8 a.m. A Phi Mu Alpha brass ensemble, playing from the roof of the music building, will present traditional Christmas carols in arrangements by SIU students Glen Daum and Gordon Chadwick.

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is in charge of campus decorations. A committee headed by Roger Spauge and Richard Emde plan to erect Christmas figures near Old Main and to decorate a tree near the Home Economics Building.

Carolers from organized groups on campus who are to participate in the annual Christmas Sing on Tuesday will serenade Thompson Point and Woody Hall before going to the president's home. The singers, each bearing a lighted candle, will open their program in the Roman Room at the Center at 7 p.m. Mary Joyce Hogrefe and Robert Quail have planned the event.

Entertainment by SIU's foreign students will highlight the Festival of Nations in Morris Library Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

President and Mrs. Morris will extend Season's Greetings to the student body at their Doughnut Hour in the University Center Olympic Room Wednesday from 9:30-11 a.m. Lun Ye Crim and Linda Lehman are in charge.

Morris will read the Christmas story as part of the annual Christmas Assembly Thursday. The program will be given twice — in Shryock Auditorium at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Karan Davis and Robert Gray have made the arrangements.

Handel's "Messiah" will be presented complete in a recorded concert in the Gallery Lounge next to the University Center Ballroom Friday, 14 p.m.

HOLIDAY BALL

The University Women's Club and University Newcomers Club will present a Holiday Ball dinner-dance in the Center Ballroom December 8 from 6:30 p.m. until midnight. Featured at the semi-formal event will be the Glenn Daum Orchestra and a floor show with student talent. Reservations at $6.24 per couple may be obtained through Monday from Mrs. Herral Largert or Mrs. Robert Carlock.

Also included on the steering committee for official Christmas Week events are: Marty Newman, publicity; Richard Pape and Pamela Green Shields, program; Marty Newman, Richard Simmons, Carl Adkins, and Larry Brown, University Center decorations; and Trudy Kulesa, publicity.

Canedy's New Look' Loses Some of Its Good Looks

"Where were the girls?" This was the most frequent comment heard after the Marching Salukis performed at the Bowling Green SIU football game here — minus the female members of the band.

"The girls were not present at the last performance of the Marching Salukis," stated Don Canedy, band director. "However, they have not been eliminated from the band. They will be included in the band's fall program next year although perhaps not in the same manner.

At present, plans for the girls are incomplete."

"We would like to present the girls in a more feminine way than the present uniforms now permit," Canedy added.

The Marching Salukis are unique. Their uniforms consist of tuxedos with red, black and red plaid coats, Cumberbunds, bow ties and Homburg hats complete the outfit. A "brassy" sound accompanies the new uniforms.

"To my knowledge, Southern Illinois University's Marching Salukis are the only band in the country to use this method of presentation," Canedy said.

Students Reminded Of Registration

Attention students! It's time to start falling into those time-consuming lines again. Here's why:

Advance registration for the Winter quarter ends today at 5 p.m., according to Sectioning Center.

Students currently on campus who do not pre-register by 5 p.m. will not be able to register until Jan. 4. They will also be charged a $3 late registration fee.

PUBLIC LAWS

Students who plan to attend school during the winter term under Public Laws 550,634, or 894 must sign up in the Veteran's section registrar today.

For further details on these programs see Miss Doris Treiter or call ext. 2381.

ACTIVITY CARDS

Winter quarter activity and registration cards will be available at the Student Activities office in the University Center beginning Jan. 2, according to Elizabeth Mullins, co-ordinator of student affairs.

All students are required to renew their cards this quarter and, to do so, the student must bring his fee statement and ID card to the activities office.

The activity cards for the Winter quarter will be blue. They will replace this quarter's shaded cards.

Officials Gather

County commissioners and supervisors from the area met at SIU Thursday for discussion on tax collection, zoning, planning and area development.

325 to Attend Folk Dance Clinic

Some 325 girls from 35 southern Illinois high schools will be here Saturday for a Southern Illinois Folk Dance Clinic to be sponsored by the SIU Professional Club, composed of women students interested in physical education.

They will be taught various folk dances by members of the Club in the morning. Sites for instruction will be the University gym and gyms of other schools in Carbondale. After lunch, the girls will be entertained with a performance of synchronized swimming by the SIU Aquettes at the University pool.

The day's program will begin with registration at 8 a.m. and will end at 2 p.m.

Communities which will be represented are Anna-Jonesboro, Benton, Cahokia, Campbell Hill, Cairo, Carbondale, Carrier Mills, Carterville, Chester, Cobden, Courtville, Crossville, Du Quoin, Eldorado, Flora, Freeburg, Galatia, Golconda, Herrin, Johnston City, Marion, Mascoutah, Mounds, Mt. Vernon, Murphysboro, New Athens, Norris City, Sparta, St. Elmo, Tammis, Trenton, Vandalia, West Frankfort and Wood River.

Consultants Studying SIU Growth

Various stages of Southern Illinois University studies being made by outside consultants were reported this week by President Delyte W. Morris.

In line with an established policy of long-term planning and development of programs and the launching of new projects, representatives of the consulting firm of Ruder and Finn, Incorporated, are studying the University's problems of internal communications. Some of these problems are a result of increased decentralization, higher enrollment and the growth of a second major campus at Edwardsville.

President Morris told the University Council Tuesday that the work of Ruder and Finn representatives is being financed by friends of the University, just as the environmental planning conference at East St. Louis last spring was financed by private funds.

"While it is urgent that someone from off campus study our internal communications problems, we do not feel that state funds should be used in view of other pressing needs," President Morris said.

A panel of engineering consultants is being assembled to advise University administrators on the SIU engineering curriculum and the organization of the engineering program, now being administered as part of the School of Technology.

Max Steer of Purdue University will arrive Monday to advise on the SIU research program and, particularly, research use of grants and other non-state funds.

Gerhart Hartman, head of the State University of Iowa Medical School Hospital, is expected to submit a report soon resulting from a study of nursing and medical needs in Illinois, with special attention to the southern Illinois area.

For several weeks, Don Moore, assistant to SIU research professor in design, Buckminster Fuller, has been studying present and future trends in electronic data processing, television, facsimile transmission and the extent to which advancements in these fields may be employed both at Carbondale and the new SIU campus at Edwardsville.

Busses to Run Until Dec. 16

Bus service on the SIU campus and in Carbondale will continue through Saturday, Dec. 16, Student Body President Dick Childers announced this week.

U.S. Education Official Joins Staff

Appointment of James H. Pearson, since 1955 assistant commissioner for vocational education, U. S. Office of Education, as a visiting professor in the SIU School of Home Economics, was approved recently by the University board of trustees.

Pearson will serve in this capacity for the winter term only.

As a member of the staff of the Office of Education, Pearson has studied programs of vocational education in Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Guam and practically every state including Hawaii.

His travels have taken him to Canada, France, Switzerland, Italy, Mexico and Cuba.

In 1955 he was chosen for the department's "superior service award" and the following year was named as an adviser to the International Labor Conference in Geneva. He has been associated with the Office of Education since 1929, as specialist in adult education, as regional agent, as field representative for vocational education and as assistant director for program coordination in vocational education.

Since he has been assistant commissioner there have been many significant developments in vocational education. Legislation for the training of practical nurses was enacted and extended, Title VIII of the National Defense Education Act of 1958 providing for the training of highly skilled technicians has been implemented, and legislation for the training and re-training of the unemployed and under-employed has been approved.

"I WON'T DANCE" seems to be the thought of Miss Sheila Sabrey, who plays Katherine in the "Taming of the Shrew" tonight at the Southern Playhouse. Shown also is Will Grant, who plays the husband of the sharp-tongued Katherine and "tames her to his liking."

'Taming Of The Shrew' Opens At SIU Playhouse

Tonight the curtain will go up for the 30th time this season on the Southern Players presentation of William Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew".

The performances will be in the Southern Playhouse and will be at 8 p.m. today through Dec. 3 and Dec. 5 through Dec. 9. The box office is open weekdays, 10-11 a.m. and 3-4 p.m. Performance nights, tickets will be sold at 7 p.m. as well.

The play, staged by Sherwin Abrams, will feature Sheila Sabrey as Katherine "The Shrew" and Will Grant as Petruchio "The Tamer". Others in the cast are Dwayne Herndon as Lucentio, Joseph Rider as Tranio, Bill Ballard as Baptista, Edward Barber as Gremio, Jo McCord as Grumio, Harold Yee as Vincentio, and Marjorie Cox as The Widow. Miss Cox and Miss McCord will alternate in their roles each night.

The play, briefly, deals with two sisters, Bianca, who is as attractive as she is good natured and Katherine, who is good looking but is an ill-mannered, sharp-tongued wench.

The father of the girls declares that Bianca cannot wed until Katherine has a husband, therefore, the two suitors of Bianca set out to find a mate for Katherine. Petruchio, the male lead, is looking for a wife and is inveigled to marry Katherine. He has a plan to tame her, and it is simply to go Katherine one better and be even more ill tempered and sharp-tongued than his spouse.

In the end he is successful and Katherine becomes a dutiful wife.

There is also a counter-plot running through the story in that Bianca's suitors are out smarted by Lucentio, the school teacher, who secretly marries her.

Editor's Opinion

Should Women Serve?

Thousands of males across the nation each year plan their future with one gigantic obstacle in their path. Each one hopes that he's been forgotten. But finally, the inevitable happens—several thousands letters are sent from local draft boards. Before he has time to dry his mother's tears and sell his old flivver, the typical post-teenager is taking basic training.

After giving this situation serious consideration, we wonder why females should be automatically exempted from a similar type of public service during their youth? This is not to suggest that young ladies should be required to bear arms, but there are many domestic chores which could be carried out by them.

If young females were similarly required to spend two, three or four years in service to the federal government, they could act as teachers, secretaries, nurses and in other important and sometimes neglected, areas. Numerous problems would undoubtedly arise, but teaching shortages and the need for nurses and other trained workers could be alleviated considerably.

—Kent Zimmerman

Athletics Or Academics

The Edwardsville Intelligencer, located in the town where the Southwestern Campus is presently being constructed, recently indicated an interest in the athletic controversy at Carbondale. Following is a partial reprint of an editorial.

"... Inter-collegiate sports at the local campus (Edwardsville) have been suspended due to the fact that permission was not requested through 'proper' channels in the very beginning, and that the money can be used more wisely for buildings and salaries.

"During the hearing in Springfield, several Carbondale-based professors testified that nothing is done to encourage athletes to come to SIU and yet the present controversy arises because not enough money is available for athletic scholarships.

"The question arises, do they or do they not encourage athletes to attend?

"... Dr. Delyte W. Morris has, in his many speeches in this area, always put academic standards above athletic programs. It is hard to believe that this philosophy would suddenly be changed.

"Instead of an increase of $5 in activity fees for athletic scholarships, why not an increase of $5 in activity fees for academic scholarships?"

Athletic Department Problems Outlined

By Tom McNamara

This article is intended to clear up any misconceptions SIU students may have about what the athletic department is trying to do in relation to more revenue.

A point to be made right from the start is that the SIU athletic department does not want one cent activity money to go for scholarships. What they do want, however, is to be able to provide their athletes with better transportation, food and lodging on trips. Also, they would like to have better equipment.

Also the SIU athletic department's expenses have increased because of playing freshmen on their own level. American educators have proven and written that it is better for freshmen to compete on their own level until they have adjusted to college. The increase in freshmen teams, therefore, represents the increase in the athletic department's expenses.

Furthermore, if SIU had better transportation, the SIU athletes would not have to miss Thursday and Friday classes. As it stands now, whenever Southern has a trip 500 or more miles away the athletes are forced to leave Thursday morning. This necessitates missing classes that day and also on Friday. If SIU traveled by plane or train, this class absence would be cut immensely.

Moreover, Southern's football team this fall lost two promising gridders via head injuries because of poor equipment. Better equipment might have prevented these injuries. Also, the SIU freshmen suffered greatly from the poor quality of shoes as the boys could not practice for several days because of bad feet.

The same story holds true in other SIU sports.

For example, when SIU gymnastics and swimming squads travel to Chicago, they stay at the YMCA. Or the Chicago boys keep some of their teammates at their own homes.

Another point to be made is that SIU has no athletic scholarships. They, like any other department, have tuition, book and fee grants. There are over 3,500 students on campus that have some form of scholarship. They either hold a General Assembly, Military or Illinois Normal Teacher Scholarship. Also, SIU students have an equal chance to earn money for room and board by working on the student work program. Athletes earn their room and board through this method.

These are the reasons why the SIU athletic department is asking for more revenue. The revenue being asked for will be used for transportation, food and lodging—NOT for scholarships.

How SIU raises the revenue remains to be seen. However, this writer likes the idea of an athletic student coupon book that would enable those ticket holders to see the Salukis play. Then those not wishing to see the Salukis would not be required to pay the money.

I close with this question: "Why should first class athletic teams be asked to travel third class?" If you, the student body, honestly say more revenue is not needed, then SIU athletics are on the downgrade

Rocky's Divorce Is Political Suicide

Editor:

I disagree with those who say Gov. Rockefeller's impending divorce is a personal family matter and will have no adverse effects on his political future. Surely these people realize that a man who is a potential candidate for the presidency of the United States lives in a goldfish bowl and his every move is watched carefully.

Until this divorce announcement, I was convinced that Mr. Rockefeller was the best qualified candidate and had the best chance of beating Mr. Kennedy. I had even considered sending to the Republican National Committee for some "Rockefeller for President in '64" signs, but I no longer want them, for I am convinced that this divorce means political suicide for Mr. Rockefeller and that his chances of winning the presidency are extremely slim despite all his so-called charm and a more lenient attitude toward divorce today. We need only look at Adlai Stevenson, another divorced man, who has been a political failure since the termination of his marriage.

It is a sad but nevertheless true political fact of life that many people will vote for a candidate, not necessarily because they agree with his views on the leading issues of the day, but because he is good looking, because they like the members of his family, or as was so vividly demonstrated in the 1960 election, because they are of the same religion as he is.

No doubt one of the reasons that Mr. Eisenhower so easily won over Stevenson in 1952 and 1956 was because he always had his charming wife Mamie, by his side in the campaign, and that All-American girl, Jackie Kennedy, certainly did not do her husband any harm in his successful bid for the presidency last year.

One criteria the American voters want in a political candidate, I believe, is strong family ties, and the news in recent days has shown Mr. Rockefeller obviously does not have them. Mr. Rockefeller is not going to look good on the campaign trail in 1964 without a loyal and smiling wife by his side to wave at the crowd, and for this reason I hope the Republican National Convention will see fit not to choose him as their candidate for the presidency in 1964. Since Mr. Rockefeller has now eliminated himself and Mr. Nixon has lost much of his appeal, perhaps the Republicans might be

Printer Helps Defy Gravity

Editor:

You play down the phenomenal ability of Mr. Wolf with the caption under his picture on page 9 of the November 21 edition of the Egyptian. No mention was even made of his remarkable ability to defy the law of gravity for the specified three seconds.

Surely something better than a one-column cut could be afforded such a scientific breakthrough.

John W. Hall (Editor's Note — Mr. Wolf's scientific breakthrough was accomplished with the assistance of the printer who turned the cut upside down. For that reason, the paper feels justified in allotting the gymnast but one column.)

Land Denies S.P.U. Membership

Editor:

I wish to set the record straight on certain misconceptions which some may have gained from a recent article on the Student Peace Union. I am not a member of this organization, I am not a pacifist.

Also, certain statements, which I did not make, were attributed to me in the newspaper article. I did make one statement which was "the thinking of Russian leaders is one of the things that will have to change. Until then, fallout shelters are necessary until the world eliminates the need for them." I did not make any of the other statements which were erroneously attributed to me.

I do not advocate Americas unilateral disarmament. What I do favor is multilateral nuclear disarmament with ironclad controls and inspections systems, which is the stand advocated by President Eisenhower in his disarmament proposal and in his Open Skys inspection plan. My stand on disarmament could be said to be almost the same as that of President Eisenhower.

I believe all Americans should join with President Eisenhower in his effort to make the rule of justice and law supreme on this earth. In this regard, we, as students, can make a substantial contribution to our times. To this end we must be prepared to exert all our efforts.

Suggests Answer To Bike Problem

Editor:

Getting the school year started each Fall is a difficult job. Many points, of interest to only a few hundred students, are often revived in a half-hearted manner. So it is with the bicycle situation in Thompson Point Woods.

The woods have previously been a pedestrian haven. This is no longer the case. The "Pedestrians Only" signs have been all but obliterated by hundreds of people walking on them each day. Freshmen seem to know little of the pedestrian-sanctuary nature of the woods. Bicycles are becoming more and more numerous in the woods.

Irritated students naturally raise this question, "Isn't it about time the bikes were removed?" It is a valid question. Why haven't the bikes been restricted from the woods? Are the controlling authorities lax? Or, is it that a voiced opinion by a student is needed. If the latter is the case, then here it is. More comments on the bicycle issue can be heard in conversation in classes and living areas near Thompson Point Woods.

If suggestions on the situation are needed, may I offer three:

1. Students: The woods belong to the walker. Make your wishes known to the Egyptian.
2. The Egyptian: Voice the students' opinion on the subject.
3. The University: Use official authority to back students and the student newspaper.

Wheelchair Student

Editor:

I am a wheelchair student at the Vocational Technical Institute. When I first arrived as a freshman this fall, I was really surprised at the wonderful accommodations Southern has for a handicapped person. Most of the classrooms and laboratories are equipped with ramps and good sidewalks leading up to them. One would think that a person in a wheelchair would not be as able to choose the courses of his choice. I learned he would soon discover otherwise. The facilities at Southern for this purpose are outstanding. Even sporting events and other happenings are all accessible to a person with a physical disability.

Even though I have been here only a short time, I have grown to love our institution. A feeling of pride and honor has come over me toward the school. Most colleges around the nation will not even accept a person in a wheelchair. This important factor of feeling accepted makes me feel this way. Students and teachers are friendly and helpful in every way possible. Students are always asking, "May I push you to class?"

It is a good feeling to know that I belong to such a wonderful organization. Everywhere I go I am proud to say, "I am from Southern Illinois University."

Mrs. Carmen Piccone Finds

Football Season Hectic

By PAT TOTORAITS

It's possible to be happily married and still feel like a widow, Mrs. Carmen Piccone, wife of SIU's football coach, will concur.

This week, however, the pretty Carbondale housewife spent a relaxed week-end with the family breadwinner. Southern had completed another successful season.

"Carmen was home for Thanks-nine in the morning," Mrs. Piccone said. "In fact, we entertain the whole week-end. I think you could call us the Hotel Piccone during the fall."

Football is something heard the year around at the Piccone household. The Saluki mentor often entertains squad members and occasionally some of the boys drop by to catch a game on television.

"Working with young people keeps us both young. We are always joking that we can't be 30 years old because we feel too much like the college students," she added, picking up a small trophy her husband won during his undergraduate days.

"Meals are a real problem during the season," according to Mrs. Piccone. "You never know when to start fixing dinner, or if it will be fit to eat before he gets home from the stadium," she added.

Mrs. Piccone rarely misses, any of the home games. When her husband is on the road with the ball club, she tunes in over a local radio station to keep up with the Salukis.

The pigskins have been put away for another season at SIU, but Mr. Piccone will now take to the road in order to seek new talent to replace departing seniors.

"I hate to see him out on the road alone, but that's some of the things you put up with when you are a coach's wife," explained

Mrs. Piccone. "I guess I just worry too much."

What are her plans for this week-end?

"I'm not sure. Carmen will be home, but Army-Navy, or whatever game will be on television will probably get top priority. It will be a week-end to relax and probably some time to catch up on conversation," she added.

Coach Piccone will be off on scouting tours Dec. 11. For most of the winter months, he'll probably be on the banquet circuit. It's all in a coach's work schedule.

IIAC Represented at Olympic Meet

For the first time in its history, the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference will be represented at the quadrennial meeting of the United States Olympic Association, scheduled Monday and Tuesday (Dec. 4-5) in Washington, D.C.

The IIAC delegate to the two-day session will be Dr. Fred Rolf, secretary of the seven-school circuit and chairman of the athletic fund board at Northern Illinois University.

Prime purpose of the meeting is to plan for the 1963 Pan-American Games, the 1964 Winter Olympics, and the 1964 Olympiad. The agenda includes organization of the United States Olympic Committee, formation of committees for the various Olympic sports, action on proposed amendments to USOA regulations, and election of USOA officers.

Concert Rehearsal In Full Swing

Robert Kingsbury, SIU choir director, has been hard at work this week rehearsing the ensemble and choral groups for the Annual Christmas Concert.

Symphony, Chorus Will Present Weekend Christmas Program

Sans applause and formal attire, performers in Southern Illinois University's Christmas Oratorio Program direct their activities toward the perfection that their audiences will enjoy this weekend.

Channeling the determination a violinist, the concentration of a cellist, the frenzied blur that is the tympanist and the tinkling grace of a harpsichord, the director has a long and laborious job in blending the music and voices into a harmonious whole.

In the often tedious rehearsals, the incongruous elements of music mechanics and artistic creativity are merged. The long hours of work behind such a program sometimes go unnoticed and unappreciated by the listeners.

From the initial cacaphony of sounds and frayed nerves, a program of 16th and 17th Century choral works will be offered to Southern music lovers. This year's Oratorio Concert will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday and 4 p.m. Sunday in Shryock Auditorium.

3 Choirs To Appear In Christmas Program Here

Two faculty members and four students will be featured soloists When an annual Christmas oratorio program is presented here this week-end.

Some 240 singers in three choral units will take part in the programs Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 4 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

The 74-voice University Choir, the 106-member Southern Illinois Oratorio Society and an invitational chorus of 60 voices from 18 area high schools will be directed by SIU choral conductor Robert Kingsbury in a variety of Christmas selections.

Featured in the two performances will be Johann Pachelbel's "Magnificat in C," for solo quartet, orchestra and chorus. Faculty soloists will be soprano Carol MacClintock and baritone William Taylor.

Students in solo roles will be tenor Larry Jarvis of Hematite, Mo.; soprano Deanna Stevenson of Salem; tenor John Wilkinson of Mt. Carmel; and contralto Laurada Bunton, formerly of Carmi.

Jarvis, a senior music major, has starred in campus productions of "Die Fledermaus," "Carmen" and "Pajama Game" and is a student of Miss Marjorie Lawrence.

Miss Stevenson, another Opera Workshop principal under Miss Lawrence, is a transfer student and will appear in next winter's production of "Aida" here.

Wilkinson is a graduate voice student who played in several campus productions including "Carmen," "Carousel," and "South Pacific." Mrs. Bunton, also a graduate student, won a bachelor's degree at Miami University and has studied at Juilliard. Her husband is a member of the SIU industrial education faculty.

Other selections on the program will be a group of 16th and 17th century choral classics; four excerpts from the "Messiah" with Miss MacClintock as soloist; two carols and a Bach "Alleluia" by the high school group; and "All Glory Be to God on High" featuring the combined choirs.

The programs will be free.

Turner Will Discuss Black Muslims

"The Black Muslims" will be the topic of a talk to be given at the Unitarian Fellowship House Sunday at 10:30 a.m. by James D. Turner.

Turner, administrative assistant to SIU's President Delyte W. Morris, is a sociologist with a long-standing interest in American minorities. He has been with Southern Illinois University for three years.

"The Black Muslims," according to Turner, are not Moslems, although they do follow many of the tenets of Mohammedanism. "They are a contemporary social movement, restricted entirely to non-whites," Turner reports.

"The movement has been in existence since the thirties, and has recently come into national prominence, with observers reporting that its converts are second in number only to those of Billy Graham."

The general public is invited to hear the Turner talk. The Unitarian Fellowship House is located at 301 W. Elm Street, in Carbondale.

SIGMA KAPPA

Sigma Kappa will hold open House Sunday, Dec. 3, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in conjunction with Christmas Week celebration. Theme of the organization's open house is, "Sigma Kappa reflects Christmas." The public is invited to the event. Refreshments will be served.

SIU Meets Two Eastern Powers

Unknown-untried Niagara and Seton Hall Universities play the role of host this week-end as Coach Harry Gallatin unveils the 1961-62 edition of SIU basketball.

The Salukis play in Niagara tonight and then travel to South Orange, New Jersey, to battle Seton Hall tomorrow night.

Radio station WSIU will carry the broadcasts live from both places. Air time for the Niagara game tonight is 7:50 p.m. Broadcast time of tomorrow's encounter is set for 7:05 p.m.

Although both Niagara and Seton Hall long have been considered eastern powers, Niagara appears to be the stronger of the two this season. Since this is the first meeting with the schools, little is known about the type of offense either team might possess.

The Salukis open a 24 game schedule with hopes of bettering the 21-6 record of a year ago.

Southern is expected to go with Captain Jim Gaudoni and Charlie Vaughn at the guard positions, Dave Henson and Ed Spila at the forward spots, and Frank Lentfer at center. Rounding out the traveling team on the trip east is Eldon Bigham, Rod Linder, Harold Hood, Dan Corbin, and Dave Needham.

As in the past SIU Senior guard Charlie Vaughn looms as Southern's top offensive weapon. The 6-2, 185 pound Tamms graduate could very well supply the difference on the eastern trip.

Last season Vaughn was a first team selection on the UPI Little All-American squad. So far in his illustrious career at SIU Vaughn has scored 1,891, including 492 points last winter.

Other members of the starting five who saw considerable action last season are Gaudoni, Spila, and Henson.

Spila, while doing much of the rebounding for the Salukis, scored 153 points. Gaudoni with 126 points and Henson with 101 points were the only other members of this year's squad to crack the century mark in scoring.

Rod Linder, former Centralia star and a transfer student from the University of Michigan, regains his eligibility this week-end and is expected to see considerable action Saturday night against Seton Hall. Due to an NC AA ruling, an athlete in order to compete must have resided at the school which he is competing for at least a year. Linder walked out on the University of Michigan on December 1, 1960 so he will not become eligible until December 2 or Saturday.

While Southern battles the east coast powers this week-end, Coach George Iubelt and his freshman squad will travel to Hoosierland for their opener tomorrow against Evansville. The Saluki yearlings travel to McKendree before returning home to face Southeast Missouri State on December 14.

Concerning the Outdoors

By LARRY MAYER
Outdoor Editor

If The Birds Knew...

Upland game birds and animals are protected today through Sunday by law in the Illinois counties open for deer hunting during the shotgun deer season, which opened at 7 a.m. today (Dec. 1). This season — hunting with shotgun and rifle slug only — will close Sunday (Dec. 3).

The second portion of the bow and arrow deer season, which is for hunters who have requested and received permits to hunt deer with bow and arrows, will open Monday (Dec. 4) and close Dec. 11.

Shotgun hunters also need permits, game and fish officials pointed out.

Shotgun shooting hours for deer are from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. Shooting hours for bow and arrow hunters are from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Any age or sex of deer may be taken. The limit is one deer per person for a season.

Deer hunting with bow and arrow and shotgun is permitted in the following counties: JoDaviess, Stephenson, Winnebago, Carroll, Ogle, Boone, DeKalb, Whiteside, Lee, Mercer, Putnam, Marshall, Henderson, Warren, Hancock, McDonough, Fulton, Adams, Brown, Schuyler, Mason, Greene, Jersey, Knox, Cass, Pike, Scott, Morgan, Calhoun, Jackson, Williamson, Saline, Gallatin, Union, Johnson, Pope, Harlin, Alexander, Pulaski, Massac, Clinton, Fayette, Bureau, Rock Island, Hamilton, Washington, and White.

The Illinois Department of Natural Resources has closed the waterfowl refuge in Union Co. — will be closed to all deer hunting.

If you're an upland game hunter, keep in mind that upland game seasons are closed today (Dec. 1) through Sunday (Dec. 3) in the counties which are open or shotgun deer hunting. Geese, of course, are not classified as upland game.

CAGE RESULTS

Intramural basketball opened Monday with ten games played and three forfeits. What the Intramural offices believes to be the highest score ever run up by an IM team also was achieved in opening night play. Playing in the off campus league, the Commuters downed the Mason Dixons 105-36.

Meet Two Big Ten Teams

Wrestlers Open Season At Illinois

Southern's wrestling team opens its 1961-62 season Saturday at Champaign in the Illinois Invitational Wrestling meet.

Although SIU doesn't have any seniors on the squad, they will be fighting for top honors with two Big 10 schools, University of Illinois and Northwestern, and Eastern Illinois.

"Illinois and Northwestern always have tough teams," said Saluki coach Jim Wilkinson. "And Eastern is a surprisingly well-balanced outfit this year."

Other schools that are entered are: Western Illinois, Normal, Northern Illinois, Wheaton and the University of Illinois (Navy Pier).

HURT BY INJURIES

Wilkinson didn't seem too optimistic about the outcome of the meet because his team isn't up to par due to intelligibilities and injuries. "If we place six men I'll be happy," said the coach.

Junior Ken Houston, from Oak Lawn, Ill., has not shown his All-American form of last year when he won the heavyweight IIAC championship and third place in the NCAA meet. But Houston is expected to be in top shape for tomorrow's important contest.

Steve Cox, a 6-1, 215-pounder from Indianapolis, Ind., and a center on the Saluki football team, will be out of action tomorrow due to a sprained ankle.

TWO CHAMPS OUT

Three time IIAC champ and NAIA champ Jim Bledsoe, a 137-pounder, from Granite City, hopes to regain eligibility and join the winter squad.

Others who will be lost to the team until winter quarter include Mike Trgovich, Granite City; Eddie Lewis, Harvey; and Mike Knapp, St. Louis, Ill.

Larry Kistoff, a 230-pounder from Carbondale and also a footballer, will wrestle in the heavy-weight division. Kistoff is rated as a fine heavyweight prospect.

Larry Meyer, from Mattoon, Ill., will be entered in the 191-pound division. Meyer is the defending champ in that class.

BROTHER ACT

Houston will wrestle in the 170-pound class. Don Millard, a soph from Pekin, Ill., will compete in the 167-pound weight class tomorrow. Irv Johnston, a junior letter winner from Elgin will be wrestling at the 157-pound level.

In the lighter weights, Southern has a brother act in Chico and Pat Coniglio from Oak Lawn, Ill. Chico, last year's IIAC conference champ in the 123-pound division, will be wrestling in the 130-pound class. Pat, a soph, will be entered in the 127-pound level. Rounding out the list is Izzy Ramos, a junior from Carbondale, who will compete in the 115-pound match.

"It'll be a real tough meet," concluded Wilkinson, "because every team is so well balanced."

Saluki Swimmers Seek Fourth Consecutive Title

Southern's swimming team is looking for its fourth consecutive IIAC championship as it opens the season Saturday against Illinois State at Normal.

"We'll win it easily," said Saluki swim coach Ralph Casey, "but three of our top boys will be out with ailments."

The three top men are Captain Ron Ballatore, a backstroke from Chicago, Clyde Epperson, a sprinter from Carbondale, and Joint Robbins a fine diver from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Ballatore's loss will be felt most because he is the conference record-holder in the 100-yard backstroke.

NO RECORD BREAKERS

SIU holds all IIAC records but Casey doesn't think that any will be broken tomorrow.

For the first time in his college career, Southern All-American Ray Padovan will be competing in the 220 and 440-yard free-style events.

Padovan, a junior from North Miami, Fla., is the NCAA record holder for 100-yards with a time of 47.3 seconds.

Dale Cunningham, a sophomore also from North Miami, and Bruce Roman, a senior from Berwyn, will both be swimming in the 50 and 100-yard sprints tomorrow.

Swimming the breaststroke will be Jack Schiltz a sophomore speedster from Thornton High and junior Larry Assmusen, from Hazel Crest, Ill.

RECORD HOLDER

Last year Schiltz set the SIU 200-yard breaststroke record in 2:20.5. Assmusen won both the IIAC 100 and 200-yard events last year.

Walt Rodgers, a senior, will be swimming in the 100 and 200-yard butterfly events. Rodgers won both events in the conference last year and holds three IIAC records.

"HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY"

I have asked the makers of Marlboro—an enterprising and aggressive group of men; yet at the same time warm and lovable; though not without acumen, perspicacity, and drive; which does not, however, mask their essential great-heartedness; a quality evident to all who have ever enjoyed the beneficence of their wares; I refer, of course, to Marlboro Cigarettes, a smoke fashioned with such loving care and tipped with such an easy-drawing filter that these old eyes grow misty when I think upon it—I have asked, I say, the makers of Marlboro—that aggregate of shrewd but kindly tobaccoists, that cluster of hearty souls bound together by the profit motive and an unflinching determination to provide a cigarette forever flavorful and eternally pleasing—I have asked, I say, the makers of Marlboro whether I might use today's column to take up the controversial question: Should a coed share expenses on a date?

"Yes," said the makers simply. We all shook hands then and squeezed each other's shoulders and exchanged brave smiles, and if our eyes were a trifle moist, who can blame us?

To the topic then: Should a coed share expenses on a date? I think I can best answer the question by citing the following typical case:

Poseidon Nebensal, a student at Oklahoma A and M, majoring in hides and tallow, fell wildly in love with Mary Ellen Flunge, a flax weevil major at the same school. His love, he had reason to believe from Mary Ellen's sidelong glances and maidenly blushes, was not entirely unrequited, and by and by he mustered up enough courage to ask her the all-important question: "Will you wear my 4-H pin?"

"Yes," she said simply. They shook hands then and squeezed each other's shoulders and exchanged brave smiles, and if their eyes were a trifle moist, who can blame them?

For a time things went swimmingly. Then a cloud appeared. Mary Ellen, it seems, was a rich girl and accustomed to costly pleasures. Poseidon was bone-poor and he quickly ran out of money. Unable to take Mary Ellen to the posh places she fancied and too proud to tell her the reason, he turned surly and full of melancholy. Soon their romance, so promising at the beginning, was headed for a breakup. But at the last moment, Poseidon managed to blurt out the truth.

"Oh, beloved agrarian!" cried Mary Ellen, grappling him close. "Oh, proud husbandman! Oh, foolish reaper! Why have you not told me before? I have plenty of money, and I will contribute according to my ability."

Poseidon, of course, protested, but she finally persuaded him of the wisdom of her course. From then on they split all expenses according to their incomes. Rather than embarrass Poseidon by handing him money in public, a joint bank account was set up to allow him to write checks. Into this account each week they faithfully deposited their respective allowances—35 cents from Poseidon; $2300 from Mary Ellen.

And it worked fine! They were happy—truly happy! And what's more, when they graduated they had a nice little nest egg—eight million dollars—with which to furnish a lovely apartment in Lubbock, Texas, where today they operate the local laundromat.

So you see? You too can salvage your failing romance if you will only adopt a healthy, sensible attitude toward money.

Gymnasts Defend Midwest Crown

SIU's highly-touted gymnastic team travels to Chicago in quest of its second consecutive Midwest Open championship today and Saturday.

The defending champs will compete against some of the nations top schools, including all of the Big 10 universities, all IAC teams and many independent clubs and individuals. Included in the clubs are the Turners, one of the strongest contingents on the country and the Sokols, a Czechoslovakian club.

Saluki coach Bill Meade sees the University of Illinois, Michigan, Michigan State and the Midwest Gymnastic Association as his stiffest competition.

Competing for the Gymnastic Association are three All-Americans. Bill Buck, the collegiate side-horse champ, Marshall Claus, who was among the 15 top performers in the Olympic tryouts and John Culbertson, an alternate in last year's Olympics.

But Southern also has three All-Americans in Bruno Klaus, a 5-7, 138-pound junior from New York; the NCAA horizontal bar champ in 1960; Fred Orlofsky, a 5-10, 139-pounder from Bergen, N.J., who is the NCAA still-ring champ; and Fred Tijerina a 5-4, 139-pound senior from Elmhurst, Ill., who tied for first in the NCAA parallel bar competition in 1960.

"Even though we'll be competing against many All-Americans, we'll be the team to beat," said Meade. "We're the defending champs and we have the same team, if not better than last year."

The meet will be run under National Collegiate rules so Meade will not enter his outstanding freshman gymnasts. However, they will compete unattached but will not figure in the scoring. Dennis Wolf, of Pico Rivera, Calif., who was National invitational still-ring champ last year while in high school, is expected to finish high in two or three events.

"A side from Wolf winning," commented Meade, "I expect Steve Pasternak, a freshman from Oak Park, to finish in the top ten in the side horse event." Orlofsky, who is co-captain and who finished 44th out of 180 competing gymnasts in the 1960 Rome Olympics, will be pushed very hard by his teammate Wolf on the rings.

Klaus, who is hampered by a sprained thumb, will be a heavy favorite in the high bar competition.

Tijerina, the other co-captain, "Will have a good chance of coping the parallel bar event," smiled Meade.

When asked what was the overall physical condition of his squad, the coach replied: "We're in better shape than anybody, and nobody works as hard as we do."

Harriers Wrap Up Successful Year

A seventh place finish in the NCAA University division cross country championships at East Lansing Monday afternoon closed the book on one of the most successful seasons for Coach Lew Hartzog and his SIU harriers.

The Salukis, paced by sophomore Joe Thomas, displayed championship form this season in running to six first place finishes, three second place finishes, and a seventh place in the NCAA.

Highlight of the 1961 season came two weeks ago when Southern captured the NCAA College division crown at Wheaton. The Salukis hoped to a 33-82 win over South Dakota as four SIU harriers finished in the top ten.

Thomas, Lee King, John Flamer, and Jim Dupree finished in that order over the four mile course.

After placing second to the University of Kansas in the opening meet of the year, Southern romped to five successive cross country victories. Included in these were the IAC Conference championship, the AAU Open Meet at Chicago, and three dual meets.

It was a year of many firsts for Southern as the Salukis competed in both NCAA divisions and the Central Collegiate meet. In addition to these three big meets Hartzog's harriers also ran against Kansas.

The Jayhawkers were the only team to hand Southern a loss in dual meet competition. Kansas also finished ahead of the Salukis in winning the Central Collegiate in Chicago. Southern finished in the runnerup spot in this meet. In short, it was a season for the Salukis to be proud of as they continually climbed the ladder to stiffer opposition.

Standout Joe Thomas finished first on four occasions, second on one, third on two, and fourth, sixth, and 17th on the others. His 17th place finish in the University division NCAA meet Monday was the result of a fall during the first mile. Thomas had been leading the pack up to this point.

Running second to Thomas in most of the meets this year was SIU captain Lee King. Senior King, along with sophomore Jim Dupree, gave the Salukis a solid 1-2-3 scoring punch enroute to a banner year.

Carl Karl of Yonkers, N. Y., has been named outstanding Flag Football manager of 1961-62. He managed the N. Y. Giants, named tops among 50 teams.

Bowling Opens

Competition begins Monday at 9 p.m. in the newly organized Faculty-Staff bowling league.

The 10-team circuit elected Capt. Harold Maxwell, president; Herb Portz, vice president and James Micklewright, secretary-treasurer during a meeting this week. The officers and team captains form a board of directors to review rules and regulations.

CD Film Series Opens Tonight At 7:30 In Library Auditorium

A series of 15-minute Civil Defense films depicting ways of surviving a nuclear attack will be shown in three public screenings this month at Southern Illinois University.

Arranged by O.B. Young, head of SIU's atomic and capacitor research laboratory, the showings have been set up because of what Young calls "a tremendous demand for information on fallout protection and nuclear hazards."

A member of the Civil Effects group witnessing the 1957 U.S. atomic tests in Nevada and former chief radiological officer for the Illinois Civil Defense effort, Young has had to start turning down speaking engagements because of the demand.

The series will be shown tonight, Dec. 6th and 7th, at 7:30 in Morris Library Auditorium and the final night at 7:30 in Furr Auditorium of University School.

The films will be shown continuously until 10 o'clock each night. The four features in the package are "The Invisible Enemy," concerning radiation; "Radiation Detection"; "Fallout — When and How to Protect Yourself Against It"; and "Seconds For Survival" what to do in the critical period following an atomic blast.

Frank Bridges, SIU Civil Defense coordinator, is cooperating with Young in the "special effort to get this vital information to the public and the student body."
